JUDGE REFUSES DIARY, LETTERS OF "PEACHES"

Part of Browning's Bride Not To Be Flaunted to "Waiting Hordes"

PAIR NEARLY MOBBED

Five Thousand Persons Mill in Streets About White Plains
Courtthouse

Courthouse, White Plains, Jan. 31.—"Peaches" Browning crossed a scene in court here this afternoon when she was escorted to the courtroom by a police officer. "You are not to be seen by the waiting hordes," the officer said. "You are to be seen by the judge and the jury only."

The witness was before Judge P. J. Brown, a married man who testified he had seen "Peaches" before Browning and she were married.

Courthouse, White Plains, N. Y., Jan. 31.—"Peaches" Browning's past—if she is a "past"—will not be flaunted before a scandal-hungry mob in court. What she did or did not do before she married Edward W. "Daddy" Browning, the elderly New York millionaire, is not admissible in evidence at the Browning separation trial. Justice Robert Steger declared today in excluding 16-year-old "Peaches" dairy letters and her love letters to the witness that the contents of the letters were not relevant to the case.

A dozen witnesses trooped to the witness stand this morning after an early decision was announced and a reading of the testimony regarding "Peaches" "Daddy."

The trial, which has attracted thousands of persons outside the courthouse and a crowd of thousands at the trial, is the most sensational of the Browning separation trial.

The corridors and stairways of the building, from the first to the fourth floor, where the trial is being held, were packed with struggling people.

"Peaches" arrived at the courthouse at 10:30 a. m. and was greeted by a crowd of thousands of persons.

It took her ten minutes to reach the courtroom.

Daddy Is Cheerful
The minute later "Daddy" arrived at the courthouse steps and then he walked to the courtroom, amid a cheering crowd of thousands.

Charlotte Mills, who figured prominently in the recent Hall-Mills murder trial, came into the courtroom at 10:30 o'clock. It had been reported she would be subpoenaed but she declined to be a witness.

"Peaches" had her happy days with the man who she married in 1915. "Peaches" will not be admitted as evidence, Justice Steger ruled at the beginning of the trial today.

Browning's chief attorney, Judge John E. Mark, told Judge Steger he had a brief to be submitted in support of his motion for a new trial.

"Peaches" attorney, Henry Epstein, said he had a brief to be submitted in support of his motion for a new trial.

Judge Steger said: "I will leave you to argue your case on this matter—this diary is excluded."

"Peaches" attorney, Henry Epstein, said he had a brief to be submitted in support of his motion for a new trial.

NOTED SWIMMER IS TAKEN BY DEATH IN CHICAGO HOSPITAL

SYBIL BAUER

SYBIL BAUER, FAMOUS GIRL SWIMMER, DIES

Fiance and Parents at Bedside
in Chicago Hospital at Death

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Sybil Bauer, famous woman swimmer, died early today at Michael Reese Hospital following a long illness. Miss Bauer had been confined to the hospital for several months from complications that developed after an operation for intestinal disorder.

At the bedside when death came were Miss Bauer's parents, a brother and her fiancé, Edward Sullivan, New York newspaper man.

The death of the noted star came as a distinct surprise as it was announced only a few days ago that she was recovering rapidly.

Miss Bauer was holder of many national and international swimming records. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bauer of Chicago. Until the break in her health, Miss Bauer was student at Northwestern University.

All records of the swimmer's career were made public in the West. The swimmer's death was a great loss to the swimming world.

SEE 226,500,000 IN U. S. BY 2,000 A. D.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—If the United States keeps up its present rate of growth, the country will have a population of well over 226,500,000 in the year 2,000. This estimate was based upon the announcement today by the bureau of the census, that by July 1, the population will have passed 118,628,000 a gain of 1,492,000 in a year and 12,918,000 since 1920. The census bureau's estimate gave the population of each state except those which had showed a decrease between 1910 and 1920, or from 1920 to 1925.

Pennsylvania Gains
Pennsylvania gained 1,109,993 in population between 1920 and 1925.

New York increased 1,037,773 in the same period and California 1,006,139. New York led in population with 11,423,000, followed by Pennsylvania with 9,730,000. In order to support the vast future population, Secretary of Commerce Hoover believes that great progress must be made in the better utilization of raw materials, elimination of industrial waste, development of water and power resources, in science and other fields, that living standards may be maintained. He believes that the progress of scientific and industrial achievement will so increase productivity that living standards not only will be maintained but greatly improved with the growth of the nation.

The unofficial estimate for 2000 is regarded as conservative. Officials believed that the rate of gain in population, resulting from the surplus of births over deaths will increase from year to year aside from immigration.

Public health reports show that the average span of life is increasing, partially from greater progress in medical science and sanitation, and partially from elimination of de-vitalizing manual labor possible through labor saving devices.

OHIO FARMERS URGED TO UNITE FOR PROTECTION

Five Thousand Persons Attend
Annual Event at Ohio State University

Columbus, Jan. 31.—With speakers urging Ohio farmers to unite for economic self-protection, the Fifteenth Annual Farmers' Week got under way at Ohio State University here today with 350 events on the five-day program. The attendance was estimated at 5,000, including farmers, housewives and youths.

Following the morning address by L. R. Palmer, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, Murray D. Lincoln, secretary, and the afternoon address of Dr. C. C. Taylor, dean of the graduate school, North Carolina State College, interest centered about the visit and address of W. M. Jardine, secretary of agriculture, who is to speak Tuesday morning.

Twenty-three speeches including Secretary Jardine's were broadcast over W.S.A. for the benefit of "shut-in" and rural residents unable to attend.

"The individual farmer is helpless," declared Palmer in his address. "The farmer who refuses to pool his energies with those of his neighbors is standing in the way of economic and social progress. Leadership in solving agricultural problems must come from the farm. Now we have a beautiful government agency can do this for us. 'Relief' necessary to farmers to make their work more profitable depends largely on a better system of marketing and farm facilities. The unwillingness of farmers to patronize their own co-operative ventures has proved detrimental both to producer and consumer."

Secretary Lincoln declared the American farmer is not getting a fair return on his labor and investment. "In 1914," he said, "the farmer averaged $170 annually, or $200 less than any other worker. From 1920 to 1925 he received $413 compared to $1,400 for other workers."

"The two great keys to a higher standard of living are community cooperation, and economic and social education and organization."

Dry Chief Chafing Under Congress' Refusal to Enact Program

Washington, Jan. 31.—Chafing under Congress' refusal to enact his dry legislative program, L. C. Andrews, dry chief today threatened to take the bit in his own teeth to clamp down more stringent enforcement regulations.

Unless something is done to strengthen his powers, Andrews said prohibition enforcement would be materially handicapped and "the illegal liquor traffic might get out of control entirely."

Andrews threatened to do two things after March 4 unless Congress acts upon his recommendations:

1. Issue permits to distilleries all over the country to manufacture medicinal whiskey.

2. Issue local revenue laws to confiscate buildings in which moonshine liquor is made.

"Moonshine will be the whisky of the future and something drastic has to be done to curtail its manufacture," said Andrews.

JAY SEBRING, 14, HURT IN FALL AT ICE PLANT

Sustains Fracture of Right Leg
in Tumble Down Elevator Shaft

Jay Sebring, 14, student at Central Junior High School, living at 528 Davidson, suffered a compound fracture of the right leg this noon when he fell into an abandoned elevator shaft at the plant of the Marion Ice & Cold Storage Co.

The boy lay in the bottom of the elevator shaft for nearly 20 minutes, snow and ice on the steps leading into the shaft making it impossible to move him until Dr. James W. McMurray and Schaffer's ambulance arrived. Binding the injured leg to the sound one, Dr. McMurray made it possible to lift the boy out of the nine foot shaft. According to school matrons of the boy he suffered fractures of both legs about a year ago when he fell off the roof of a house.

Young Sebring was playing around the Standard Oil Co. plant and the rear of the ice company plant with some chums during the noon hour today. They were chased away from the Standard Oil property and went into an unused part of the ice plant. A group of five or six boys were with young Sebring at the time of the accident.

They rushed over to the Standard Oil office where the shaft fell into the abandoned elevator shaft, and summoned George Long, manager. Attempts to move the boy were useless, an account of the slippery steps, and Long hastened to summon aid. He returned with blankets and made the boy comfortable until Dr. McMurray and the ambulance arrived. The boy was taken to City Hospital.

TURNER RULES AGAINST FEE TAKING PRACTICE

Death Knell Sounded to Court
Clerks' Notary
Charges

Columbus, Jan. 31.—Attorney General Edward C. Turner today sounded the death knell for the alleged widespread practice in Ohio of common pleas clerks and their deputies pocketing fees for services rendered as notaries public.

Asking for a ruling covering the situation, officials of the state bureau of inspection and accounting informed the attorney general that common pleas clerks, court clerks and deputies, when administering an oath or an affidavit of verification to a pleading filed in the clerk's office, or any other affidavit, oftentimes asked in a private capacity as a notary public and charged the regular fee which they retained.

Turner, in his opinion, announced today that such practice is illegal. He ruled that they charge and their deputies, in such instances, must act solely as an officer of the court, charge only the fees prescribed by law, and turn the money into the county treasury.

MASSACHUSETTS MAN TO WED MRS. LANDSOWNE

Washington, Jan. 31.—A marriage license was issued today to John C. Wells, Jr., 26, of Fitch's Crossing, Mass., and Mrs. Margaret Ann Landsowne, 24, widow of Commander Henry Landsowne, who lost his life in the Spanish death ship disaster two years ago.

PEKING CALLS ON LONDON TO RECALL TROOPS

Conditions in China Continue Tense as Washington Holds
to "Watchful Waiting"

Peking, Jan. 31.—The Chinese government at Peking has demanded that Great Britain immediately recall the thousands of troops that she has embarked for China.

London, Jan. 31.—The British government today declined to withhold publication of its proposals to China, "awaiting the course of events in China."

It is understood that the failure to receive advice from Peking and Hanoi as to how the Chinese have received the proposals is responsible for the holding up of the publication of the terms.

Not To Surrender
The foreign office today however suggested that emphasis should be laid on the fact that the suggestions for Anglo-Chinese administration of the concessions does not mean that Great Britain has any intention of surrendering all control or evacuating her concessions. The proposals do not apply to Shanghai, because it is an international settlement.

Reports from Kiangsu province say the anti-British campaign there is growing violent, directed especially against the agents of the Asiatic Petroleum Co. in an effort to force a cessation of the sale of British petroleum in that province, according to a dispatch to The Daily Mail from Hankow.

Conditions Tense
Conditions in Hunan province were reported as tense. The Spanish Catholic Mission has ordered the complete withdrawal of all foreign staffs from the province.

The position at Chungking was reported extremely critical, only the presence of a British garrison preventing Chinese mobs from attacking the land, where the foreigners remaining there are living.

The American Baptist Mission Chapel at Kichow has been closed, following anti-Christian demonstrations in which a half a dozen worshippers were injured, said a Central News dispatch from Hongkong.

FOREIGN TROOPS EVACUATE QUARTERS

Shanghai, Jan. 31.—The consular corps has refused to allow foreign troops to occupy the international settlement in Shanghai and two battalions of troops have been ordered to leave.

GEORGE LONG IS CHARGED WITH WALTER HOLOUP

Accused of Making Up as Blackface and Taking $40 from Grocer

George Long, 25, married and the father of two children, is under arrest on an affidavit filed in Municipal court charging him with having robbed Alton Walker, 34, a resident of Gallipoli, of about $40 by holding Walker up at the point of a gun at his home the night of Friday, Jan. 7. He is scheduled for arraignment today before Municipal Judge William H. Martin.

Long, who formerly resided near the Walker grocery and is alleged to have gone to Gallipoli the day following the hold-up, was arrested Friday night at his former home while he and his brother, a resident of Gallipoli, were packing the Long household goods for shipment to the southern "Chico" town. The arrest was made by Sheriff James A. Deal and Deputy Vane Ireland.

The affidavit against Long was filed by Walter the day after the robbery occurred but police had been unable to get any trace of the suspect until his return here Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter were sitting in the living room of their home after the closing of their store on the night of the hold-up when there was a knock on the door. Thinking that the caller was a neighbor who had arranged to purchase some groceries, Mr. Walter went to the door and found himself face to face with a robber who had brandished a knife in an effort to conceal his identity.

The robber with the knife made up as a blackface and demanded money that Walter had brought home from the grocery.

The grocer at that refused to comply with the demand, but Mrs. Walter, fearing for her husband's safety, finally took the money from his hiding place and turned it over to the holding man.

After ordering the couple to remain in their seats, the robber disappeared in five minutes, the robber disappeared in five minutes.

The next day it was found that Long and his family had left the neighborhood and Walter filed the affidavit against the missing man.

Long stoutly denies the charge and claims that he and his family left Marion on the morning of the day that the robbery occurred. Walter and his wife declared that Long did not leave until the next day.

The Walter grocery is located in a brick building on the west side of N. Main, a short distance north of Crystal Lake Park.

Long was formerly employed here as a loader by local coal companies.

Law Desired to Free Money for Loans to War Veterans

Hines Pushing Bill Through Congress; Men Who Want Cash Can't Get It

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—Just before the first big batch of adjusted service certificates became available to ex-soldiers as security for loans they might want to raise, a few weeks ago, the Veterans' Bureau issued a statement, hoping that the holders would use them that way.

Today, T. Hines, director of that bureau, is pushing a bill to Congress to enable the bureau, itself, to make loans on the certificates to ex-soldiers.

The bureau's original idea was all right. The certificates are equivalent to life insurance policies which will automatically pay themselves up in 20 years. Gen. Hines thought it would be better for the veterans to get a sizable lump of money at the end of 20 years, with protection for their families in the meantime, than to fritter their messes of postage away as they went along by continual borrowing, as fast as their loan value increased.

But it didn't occur to him that the veterans who really need money right now wouldn't be able to raise it on his certificate. This is exactly the case, however.

THE national legislators who thought up the adjusted service certificate idea had this thought also:

"If veterans can borrow on these certificates on any terms that specialists offer to them, they'll be gobbled up by sharks to the tune of millions of dollars' worth, and the rest will get precious little out of them."

So it was provided that only regularly organized banks and trust companies could make loans and even these only on strictly regulated conditions.

THE purpose of these precautions was to protect the veterans, but they involved so much red tape that they made an adjusted service certificate security to advance money on.

Another thing, a certificate's present loan value is comparatively small. This certificate, backed by the government, is the safest, collateral imaginable, but it's a chicken feed transaction, which it isn't worth the average bank's while to bother with.

The borrower on a certificate must be identified to a dead certainty, too. He must convince the bank that it really is his certificate. Otherwise, in case he doesn't pay, the bank can't get its money from the government on it.

THE result is that most banks consider a loan on an adjusted service certificate more bother than the few dollars' interest on it pays them for.

It's a case of business that few of them care to engage in, except as a favor to regular customers. The veteran who's a regular customer of a bank isn't apt to be the one who's in urgent need of a small loan. Rather, the would-be borrower usually is hard up and without any banking connection.

So the certificate holder who can get a loan doesn't want one and the one who wants one can't get it.

THUS far only about one bank or trust company in 20, which is authorized to make loans on the certificates, has made any.

The government's precautions not only work, they work too well. Some veterans need money now. It's admitted at the Veterans' Bureau that it's small consolation to an ex-soldier man to know that he'll have a comfortable bank roll coming to him in the future if he starves to death in the present.

There'll be no relaxation of restrictions on the banks and trust companies, but it's likely things will be fixed so the bureau can make loans to veterans who can't get them elsewhere.

PRaises YOUNG
Wrigley Declares Youthful Swimmer Knows How To Bave

Chicago, Jan. 31—William Wrigley, Jr., fresh from Catalina, declared today that George Young, the youthful Toronto swimmer who conquered the choppy Catalina Channel, should amass a fortune of at least $100,000, as a result of his achievement.

Young's first money was the $25,000 offered by Mr. Wrigley for the first man to conquer the channel. Wrigley said it cost $100,000 to stage the marathon.

"Young is getting $1,000 a day for public appearance," said the chewing gum magnate. "But swimming isn't the only thing that boys know how to do. He knows how to hold onto money. He's putting it in trust for his mother."

Believes in Husband's Honesty After Indictment in Shortage

Dayton, Jan. 31—Mrs. Henry J. Reichert, wife of the former cashier of the Farmers Bank of Burkettville, Mercer County, arrested here late Saturday night on a grand jury indictment, believes in her husband's honesty and today blamed an unnamed real estate dealer in Mercer County for the crash of the bank.

According to Mrs. Reichert, her husband cashed a number of checks for the real estate man, who, she declared had no money in the bank. He was a close friend of Reichert's, she said, and promised the latter to make good the amounts. The bank examined, however, discovered the shortage, and the bank was closed. The shortage is said to have totaled from $40,000 to $50,000.

BLACKLIST RAIDERS
Bonding Companies Taking No Chances on Special Constables

Cleveland, Jan. 31—Dry raiders working out of justice of the peace courts in Ohio have a new cause for grief, in addition to the worries caused by federal and state investigations.

Bonding companies here have "blacklisted" the raiders as a result of their "scandalous actions, particularly since gun play has started and made them such poor risks."

Of course, surety companies will execute documents required of the officials before they go to work, but only when a deposit of 100 per cent of the face value of the bonds is deposited.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT CHINA STARTS ON PAGE 1

Washington, Jan. 31.—In view of the continued gravity of the Chinese situation, this government, it was said today, will remain steadfast in its "watchful waiting" policy toward China.

The British proposals handed to the Chinese government by the British government, it was said today, are in no way radically different from those already made by Secretary Kellogg. It was emphasized that the new London policy goes only one step further than that of the United States in that the British offer to relinquish partial control of their concessions.

Some weight is also attached to the fact that the British have directly approached both Canton and Peking, while the government addressed its policy to the Chinese nation as a whole. That an early settlement of the Chinese question can be reached is not, however, probable here. It is believed that the Chinese government will not accept the British proposals until it has received the approval of the United States.

The difficulty centers about the desire of both the Cantonese and nationalist leaders and the northern war lords to have their government recognized by the powers to the exclusion of the others. While they may be united in their anti-foreign feeling, Kuang Chen and Chang Tso-Lin have both made it plain that they are decidedly divided on any proposition which might make it appear that they are surrendering any authority or sovereignty.

COURT CHANGES RECOMMENDED BY BAR GROUP

Marion County Association Approves Proposed Legislation To Amend Rules

Enactment of a bill by the State Legislature, making three changes in rules governing Marion's Municipal Court was recommended in action taken by the Marion County Bar Association at a meeting held in the Common Pleas Court room, Saturday afternoon.

The proposed amendments are as follows: To credit the city's general fund instead of the safety fund with all money collected from fines levied by the court for violation of city ordinances; to authorize appeal of all civil suits involving money or property valued at $100 or more and to provide for juries of six members in all civil proceedings.

Three changes had been recommended by City Solicitor George T. Gernan, former Solicitor Grant E. Mouser, Jr., and Municipal Judge Martin. They include the establishing of a uniform schedule of fees for all civil suits, granting the mayor authority to appoint a substitute magistrate to preside over the court when the judge is absent and authorizing the judge to name a trustee for handling wage assignment suits.

Although the bar association took no action on these three proposals, they are practically sure to be included in the amendment measure when it is submitted to the legislature, Judge Martin stated today. He says that all three are necessary for effective operation of the court.

Recommended Four Gernan, Mouser and Martin had recommended four changes in the Municipal Court statute, the three listed above and the one which provides for placing city fee collections in the general fund. Under the original statute, now in effect, this money goes to the safety fund where it is available for police and fire department expenses. In the general fund, it would be used to pay for operation of the court. Lawyers attending the bar association meeting agreed the court is entitled to the revenue.

Present Rule The present statute authorizes appeals in civil suits only where $500 or more is involved. The proposed amendment changes this to $100.

SOLD TO YOUNG BOYS

Painesville, Jan. 26.—The "beach
orgie" scandal, case has taken on added importance with the arrest of four additional men here. One of these, a confectioner, has been charged with selling "doped" candy to young boys.
The others are held responsible for the delinquency of minors. Eight men were indicted a week ago for alleged participation in affairs which were said
to have involved several extremely young girls.

DR. H. S. RHY INSTALLED AS SCOUT TROOP HEAD

Thirteen New Members Enroll-

ing Week

Installation of Dr. H. S. Rhy as Scoutmaster of troop No. 1 and initia-

nounced today at the Harding Area Scout headquarters in the Y. M. C. A. building today.

Dr. Rhy began his duties as Scout-

Give Demonstration

A demonstration of semaphore signaling given by Robert Stoltz and Julian Walker took place at a meeting of troop No. 5 and Robert Cleringer and Hayes Newby gave a similar demonstration of the wig-wag method of sending Morse code signals.

A proposal to have the members of troop No. 5 learn both of these signal codes was voted down but it was agreed that each Scout should familiarize himself with one of the methods.

Scoutmaster Symes gave a talk in which he instructed the nine new tenderfoot Scouts in the tests they will be required to pass. During his talk Mr.
Symes outlined a plan whereby each
"tenderfoot" may become a first class
Scout by August, 1927.

Let Your Own Eyes Tell You

Notice how much more attractive
it appears than any electric washer
you have ever seen.

Notice that it has no belts, chains
or springs—not a single exposed moving part.

Check its construction closely.
Note the new octagon-shaped tub,
of exceptionally heavy-gauge
copper. Note how the modern use of pressed steel has replaced old-fashioned cast iron. Look at the nickel-plated tub interior. Examine the agitator, built of German Silver, the most expensive material used for this purpose in any washer, at any price.

Inspect the wringer—a wonderful piece of mechanism. You can take it all apart in five seconds,
without the use of a single tool,
and without loosening a single
nut or screw.

Most Important of All—You
Should See It Wash

We want this machine known in every household in this city,
whether you are thinking of buying an electric washer now or not.
For we know that if you once see
the New Sunnysuds perform, you will never want any other washer
when you are ready.

So in order to advertise quickly
the amazing advantages of this new machine, we are going to place one at the disposal of any housewife, absolutely free and
without obligation, for a week's use.

You can simply telephone us and a machine will be sent to your home
the same day.

Or if you'd like to see it at our store, of course you are more than welcome. We'll be glad to explain its wonderful advantages. There is always someone here to make you feel at home.

Come right in, any time. Or if you prefer, just telephone us.

Celtic Sustains Two
Jagged Rips When Freighter
Is Hit

New York, Jan. 31.—Promised at a partial lifting today of the fog which for more than 48 hours closed the north Atlantic Coast, the Celtic, a liner of the White Star Line, sailed today for Queenstown. The famous ocean liner, with 630 persons aboard, including 242 passengers for Europe, was in collision with the American diamond freighter Anacosta, in a fog 25 miles west of Fire Island.

The Anacosta reached New York in safety and as soon as the Celtic docked here to pick up 90 more passengers, repairmen went to work on a rush job.

Almost no shipping moved during the night and those ships, which did move, did so at the peril of the Celtic. The Celtic, a liner of the White Star Line, sailed today for Queenstown. The famous ocean liner, with 630 persons aboard, including 242 passengers for Europe, was in collision with the American diamond freighter Anacosta, in a fog 25 miles west of Fire Island.

A freighter went aground on Governors Island with 400 passengers aboard. It was later pulled off and resumed service. Fear that the fishing boat was out of Shorehead Bay, with two men aboard, had met with disaster when the fog was expressed today when a tugboat to assist the little craft. The tugboat was later pulled off and resumed service.

WHITE STAR LINER DAMAGED IN CRASH

Boston, Jan. 31.—Ten hours after she arrived in port from New York, with two gaping holes in her iron plates and huge anchor clinging to 20 feet of battered railing, the White Star liner Celtic sailed today for Queenstown.

SPECTATORS THROG TO COURT FOR MURDER TRIAL

Couple Charged With Death of Girl's Husband; May December Romance Seen

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 31.—From all nearby regions of the Blue Grass lands spectators trooped here today to hear the opening of the state's case against Frances Eliza Yates, 19, and Edward Powell, 50, farmer, charged with the murder of Elmer Yates, husband of Frances, last November.

Yates' charred bones were found in the ashes of a long cabin not far from his home on November 30.

The state's contention that a romance of May and December, and not "death from cause unknown," as the coroner's jury originally reported, brought about Yates' death, drew hundreds into the little courtroom where the trial was scheduled to go forward.

The state's chief witness is one of the members of the coroner's jury who dismissed Mrs. Yates because of insufficient evidence.

He is Edward Erwin, who after serving on the jury, declared to investigators that his "conscience prompted him to tell the truth" and that he saw Powell on the Yates' porch on the morning of the crime, and that, a few minutes later, he heard a shot.

Later, according to investigators, Erwin declared he saw Mrs. Yates, accompanied by Powell, "buggy riding," and he alleged that they "had a bundle and were going in the general direction of the cabin."

The defendants, both of whom have previously been dismissed after being arrested in connection with the case, are being held without bond.

Return from Youngest One's Funeral

Upon returning from funeral services for their youngest brother, George Huston, 53, of Booneville, Mo., Frank Huston, Blaine, Ar., and M. C. Huston, 136 Park-bird, learned of the death Saturday night of their eldest brother, Charles Huston, 67, of Claiborne.

BILLS PENDING IN CONGRESS DOOMED, CLAIM

Legislators Enter Ninth Week
Facing Jam; Backers Clamor
For Recognition

Washington, Jan. 31.—Congress began its ninth week today facing a legislative jam which, leaders admit, threatens most of the important bills now pending.

Not a single piece of major legislation has passed both houses with the exception of appropriation bills. Nor is there at present an organized movement for an extra session after March 4.

Farm relief, Muscle Shoals and Boulder Dam loomed today as the most important controversial issues yet to be decided. Backers of a dozen other measures are clamoring for recognition.

The situation apparently does not alarm congressional leaders. The chief purpose of the short session, they point out, is to make appropriations. The country, too, they say, is clamoring for fewer laws rather than more.

Swerved from its legislative course by the international situation and the fight over the seats of Senator Gould, Republican of Maine, Senator-Designate Frank L. Smith, of Illinois and the Cyrus Woods nomination, the senate has not touched the program laid down by its steering committee.

This program is the Gooding long and short haul bill, the Copper truth-in-fabric bill, Boulder Dam, the French claims, two prohibition reorganization bills and reorganization of foreign commerce bureau.

When credit is desired, no interest is charged—

Ours is not a store where "anybody and everybody" can have all the credit they want for the mere asking. That kind of a policy means that losses must be added to the price tag.

On the other hand, any working man or woman, any business man or woman, with a reputation for paying their bills, can either open a 30-day or 60-day charge account—or they can extend their payments over as long a period as may be necessary—just as when paying for a house or a lot.

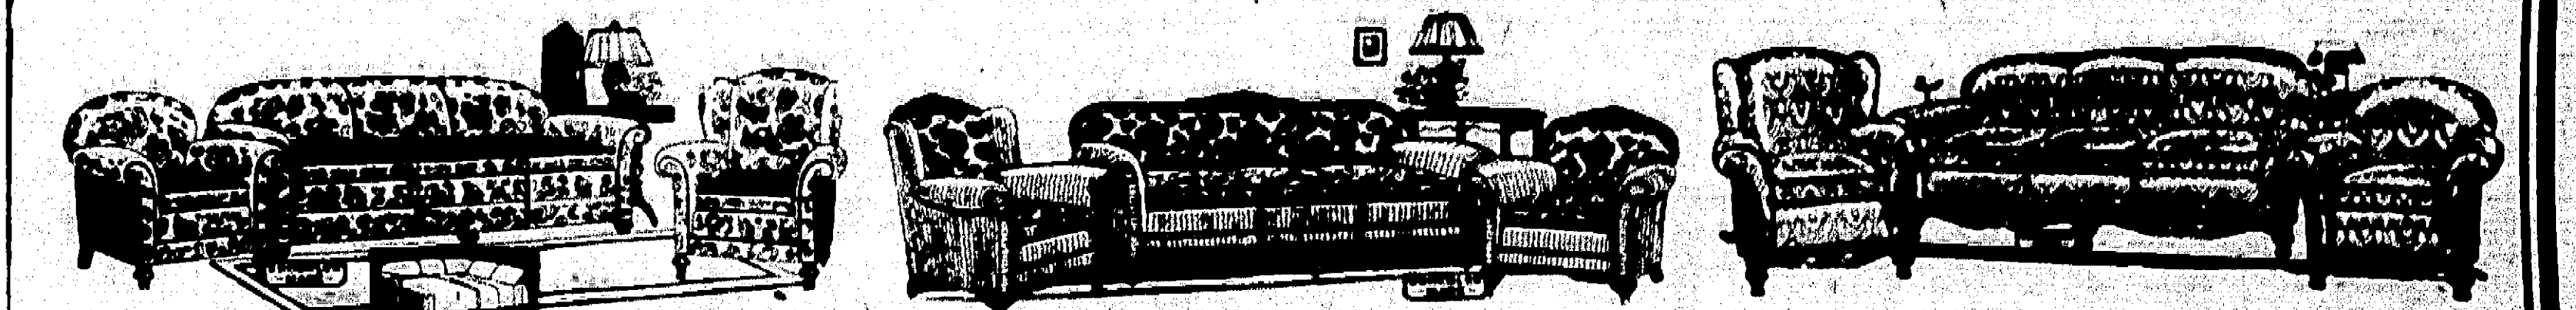

In the latter case there is a slight difference in price—necessarily. But we add no interest charge. While we extend liberal credit in all worthy cases, we are not what is known to the trade as a "Credit House."

Where very high prices are charged to meet losses. We do not carry the class of merchandise that so-called "Credit Houses" carry—we handle, rather, quality or "cash merchandise" and render with it a credit service.

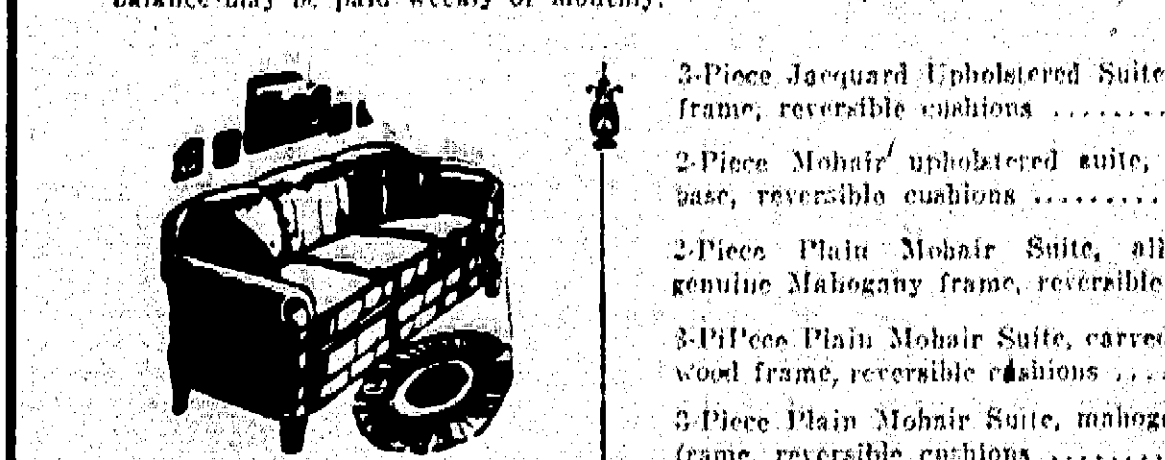

One thing you can feel sure of—if you like our merchandise you will be granted whatever credit you may need—provided you are in the class mentioned.

Daily Proverb—"A hundred years of idleness
 are not worth one hour well employed."

What puzzles us is why Almer Sample
 McPherson neglected to take a motion picture outfit along that time she was kidnapped so that she could illustrate her lecture.

Mrs. Mary O'Shea, 104 years of age, of New York City, was seriously if not fatally burned
 one day last week when the match she used to light her pipe ignited her clothing. Why can't not people appreciate the menace of tobacco?

Illinois gangsters are said to be using counterfeit $20 bills out in St. Louis to buy bootleg liquor. Isn't there some way in which the gentlemanly bootleggers of the Mound City
 can be protected?

A garter snake is reported to have been seen near Delaware recently. That's about the last place on earth where one might anticipate seeing snakes at this time of year, but the explanation may be that it was a Columbus newspaper man, we understand, who reported having seen it.

An exchange says a new drug which banishes
 sleep has been discovered, which naturally makes one wonder what shortcoming has been discovered in the narcolepsy or comatose that search should have been made for a drug like that.

So far as we have been able to glean, there never was and is not now a Communist unwilling to divide what he had until he succeeded in stealing something to divide.

An exchange says: "Diana's costume has been taken as next summer's model for feminine undies." As well as we can recall, Diana's pictures show her carrying a bow, which rather goes to show that there probably will not be any change this year in undies.

The sheriff of Broward county, Florida, and six of his deputies, and the chief of police of Fort Lauderdale and eight of his patrolmen
 were arrested as bootleggers in a series of raids
 made in that city by federal agents. Seizes them right. People engaged in any business
 as lucrative as bootlegging haven't any business toboying with picaresque side lines.

We judge from advance notices in various papers in the land that preparations for the celebration of Washington's birthday are being made just the same as though he hadn't any biographers.

The statement of Prince Carol that he preferred to remain in Paris because there was no much snow in Roumania is liable to arouse the suspicion that maybe he is suffering from cold feet.

Prohibition agents discovered a cache of 25,000 gallons of white wine and a great quantity of champagne in cases, the whole said to be worth $250,000 at bootleg prices, on a farm near Nyack, New York, in proximity to a road-
 house recently padlocked, which tells the story of another business which probably would have flourished had it not been for governmental officiousness.

We see that the National Association of Merchant Tailors of America has laid down the edict that light-colored hats must not under any circumstances be worn with evening dress,
 which will just about force us, as a faithful follower of fashion's degrees, to rent a dark overcoat also the next time we have occasion to wear a spike-tail. We have a black hat.

Still even should laws be passed generally
 to prevent the sale or transportation of revolvers and pistols, it wouldn't make much difference to Rev. J. Frank Norris, of Fort Worth, in carrying on the work of the Lord.
 He already has his.

Let us hope that there is nothing in the story
 that our immigration officials contemplate deporting George Young, the seventeen-year-old Catalina channel swimmer. Such a course would make us look like very poor sports.
 Surely there must be some other way in which our immigration officials can satisfy any craving
 they may possess to make themselves look ridiculous.

We can see no reason for criticism of Evangelist Almer McPherson for adding the war tax to the price of her admission tickets. "What's worth doing is worth doing well," and this should refer to the public as well as anything else.

To be on the safe side, it might be well for
 Mr. Vane, when approaching the senate chamber, to wear a football helmet and have a good, thick board concealed about his person
 where power of resistance is liable to be in greatest demand.

Twelve of the United States pursuit planes
 enroute from Montreal to Buffalo were driven down by snow and landed safely on the ice of the St. Lawrence river. As the other two planes of the "Good Will" squadron which visited Canadian cities were held up by engine trouble at Montreal, we should be able to
 pletely safe for the time being.

Regarding Preparedness.

Hanford MacNider, former national commander of the American legion and at present
 assistant secretary of war told a lot in a decidedly short interview a few days ago. We can not recall ever having come upon an interview so illuminating, one which told so much so tersely. The assistant war secretary was speaking, of course, in behalf of preparedness
 —preparedness in the mechanical essentials of war as well as in man power.

Man power, the assistant secretary said, was but half the problem of national defense. "We have no business calling men to the colors,"
 he said, "if we are not prepared to feed, clothe and shelter them. It is a far more serious thing to call them out if we can not equip and arm them. They must be given some chance for their lives." And then to make good his contention he cited facts in connection with our entry into the Great war with which
 many of us were not acquainted.

He showed how man power was far from the chief problem of our government in that mighty conflict. Five million men held up their right hands as fast as the government could take them, and far faster than it could equip them. We did not know it then, but he has let all the country know now that most of our soldier boys, when they finally reached the front a year after the entry of the United States into the war, carried rifles built for other armies.

"We had been manufacturing munitions for
 the Allies for three years," MacNider recalled.
 "Even with that running start, we could not meet our own requirements. The division with which I served fought the war with a spluttering, ineffective French automatic rifle and a foreign machine gun. Our American-made Brownings reached us the day after the armistice.

"We prepared behind a barrier of Allied arms. When finally we arrived in line, we fought with borrowed weapons. We have no right to assume that such a friendly barrier
 will always rise to protect us. Nor is it probable that any one will lend us the wherewithal
 to defend ourselves.

"It took seventeen men behind the lines to make one man at the front an effective combat soldier. This proportion gives you some idea of the importance of supply in modern
 war. Seventeen interested citizens in every congressional district could bring our present situation so forcibly to the attention of congress that this unromantic, perhaps, but most necessary, defense requirement would receive proper attention."

This is the way in which America went into war nine years ago. This is the situation in which the pacifists would have had us find us
 should we ever be forced into another war.
 They are against preparedness in any form—
 against preparedness in the way of a skeleton-armed army to be used as a framework upon which to build up a war combat force, against a national guard, against military training in the schools, against summer training camps,
 against teaching the technique of war, against even theorizing regarding a possible war. They would not even wage a defensive war in protection of their country, their homes and their loved ones—if they have loved ones, if there are any so unfortunate as to love them. And in this position they have the support of the red element, the parlor pink, the radical element in our churches which would accomplish
 the Russification of our country by overthrowing our government, and then do their utmost to overthrow the church just as attempt has been made and is being made to that end in Russia.

There may be some who may feel that there is no call for utterances in championing of preparedness such as this made by Secretary MacNider; that there is no danger that we ever again will be found so utterly unprepared as we were nine years ago. Let us hope they are right, but let us not be lured into any false feeling of security against a calamity of that kind. The more feeling that way, the greater our danger. Few talk of preparedness
 under such circumstances, while the entire pack
 of the focus of preparedness is active at all times. Where today there is one outspoken champion of preparedness, there are a hundred opponents of preparedness preaching and uttering outcries against it. Let us think for ourselves and not be misled by volume of pacifist, if not disloyal, noise.

The United States is being blamed for the war in China, but as yet we have escaped
 criticism for permitting the flu to become epidemic in Europe.

The Columbus citizen says a history sharp
 has found that Cleopatra's gorgeous feasts to Antony were about a dollar a plate. But that was before ball-players were drawing $50,000 a summer and movie actors from $50,000 to $1,000,000 and you had to give up the price of a sheep or a fair-sized hog to get into a theater.

A PORTRAIT.

A man more kindly, in his careless way,
 Than many who profess a higher creed;
 Whose fickle love might change from day to day,
 And yet be faithful to a friend in need.
 Whose manners covered, through life's ebb and flow.

Like charity, a multitude of sins.
 A man of honor, too, as such things go.
 Discreet and secret—qualities of use—
 Selfish, but not self-conscious, generous, slow
 To anger, but most ready in excuse.
 His wit and cleverness consisted not
 So much in what he said as what he got.

His principles one might not quite commend,
 And yet were much too simple to mistake:
 Never to turn his back upon a friend,
 Never to lie, but for a woman's sake.
 To take the secrets that came within his way,
 And pay the price, if there were price to pay.

Idle, good-looking, negatively wise.
 Lazy in action, plausible in speech;
 Favor found in many women's eyes.
 And valued most that which was hard to reach.
 Few are both true and tender, and he grew,
 In time, a little tenderer than true.

Knowing much evil, half-regretting good,
 A creature a childish impulse—lost,
 Wreathed with knowledge, best not understood.
 Bored with the disquisitions that it cost.
 But, in conclusion, with no failings, but
 A gentleman, no matter what he did.

"WE MAY BE CRAZY—"

Over-Eating a Cause of Distress.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

On a railroad train the other day I met a friend
 of mine who appeared to be mighty uncomfortable.
 He had his vest unbuttoned, looked pale and haggard
 and was ill apparently.

It didn't take long to find out he had "indigestion"
 and was suffering from gas accumulation. In consequence
 there was pain, sickness at the stomach and all the mean symptoms of such an attack.

Nobody can be happy and keep up a line of cheerful conversation if he has the stomach ache. My friend couldn't, but he could complain bitterly about
 "hot food." "I feel so much better at home," he said in pathetic tones.

When will folks stop over-eating when they "eat out"? At home they are sensible. At the table of a friend, or in a hotel or restaurant, there is the temptation to over-eat. Rich food, unusual mixtures of food and too large helpings of all the courses—
 these are the devil of dining away from home.

I am always preaching the advantages and benefits of variety. But I would rather have the same, stereotyped meal, every day of the week, than to be obliged to eat the heavy, bounteous company meal
 every single day.

There are ten—yes, a hundred—deaths from over-eating in one from starvation. One's work or so much rest about some sad case where a person starved to death. It takes the telegraph service of the world to collect these rare cases.

But the obituary column of any newspaper on any given day will contain the notices of deaths
 which have been contributed to, if not directly
 caused, by wrong or excessive eating.

If you don't die from over-eating, at least you have indigestion. What is to be done to relieve the distress of such an attack as my friend had?

Refrain from all food until several hours after the disappearance of all the symptoms. Take particular pains to avoid milk.

Empty the stomach and bowels. Tepid soda or salt solution, one teaspoonful to one pint of water, or weak mustard solution will clear the former. An enema will flush the bowels.

Go to bed, keep perfectly quiet, apply a hot water
 bag to the feet and another to the abdomen.

Have the room dark and try to drop off to sleep.
 If the attacks of indigestion are frequent, overcome the chronic constipation which almost invariably lies at the foundation of indigestion.

Have the urine examined to see if the kidneys
 are acting properly.

Bear in mind that some distant organ may be the seat of the real disturbance. Eye strain, or focal infection from bad teeth, diseased tonsils, or infected nasal sinuses may be the cause.

In general, however, your own bad habits—late hours, excessive smoking, over-eating, bad food, or hasty eating—are the real cause. Good resolutions, resolutely followed, will cure most cases.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

W. G. Q.—How can I remove hair around my mouth?

2.—What should a girl of sixteen years weigh,
 who is five feet two inches tall?

A.—Superfluous hair may be removed by the use of the electric needle. The work must be done by an expert skilled in this particular line. A bleach is very helpful. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

2.—For her age and height she should weigh about 114 pounds.

E. M. K. Q.—What will make my eyelashes grow longer?

2.—What will make the finger nails grow?

A.—Use one per cent. yellow oxide of mercury to promote the growth of eyelashes.
 2.—If you are in good health generally your nails should grow. You might apply a little vasoline or cold cream to the nails each night.

A. S. Q.—What do you advise for an anemic condition?

2.—What do you advise for falling hair?

A.—Building up the health in general is very essential. A blood tonic would be advisable. For details send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.
 2.—Frequent shampooing and the use of a good stimulating ointment. For full particulars, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—Copyright, 1927.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

Poor, slow-thinking mortals that we are, it takes us so long to learn the value of straightforwardness and simplicity that we go on a lifetime without ever reaching that straight line
 is the shortest distance between two points.
 We say everything we can think of that we do not mean until there is nothing left but
 the one thing we do mean—and then we lack the courage to say that. Why can we not deal with people in a-b-c terms? Why can we not be unmistakable and direct? Mankind is in tremendous need of honesty.

Mussolini dictates at Rome while his family
 —wife and three children—live in Milan. Gossip says the Mussolini children, all little folks,
 do not behave well. They tip over the furniture. They have even been known to throw ice-cream at each other. Mrs. Mussolini says:
 "Even their father can't manage them."

Dictating in your dining-room and running a whole country by a mass movement are two quite different things. Mussolini knows.
 Clowups on great men delightfully reveal their failings.

Most all big men have weaknesses. A man who isn't big enough to have a weakness is usually not big enough to have many strong points.

Don't worry about the need of a movement
 back to the country. Fast train and street car service have built up the American suburbs.
 Shortly 100-mile-an-hour aeroplanes will inhabit the open country beyond. Future transportation will have a heavy bearing on the hoped-for back-to-the-farm movement.

Is there a more pathetic figure in life than
 the man or woman who does not like books?
 W. N. Bayless, Cleveland, writes:
 "Over the hills and far away
 My winged feet tread far
 Nor wall nor flesh can bid them star."

Among your books—if you have enough and of the right sort—there is a friend for every mood. If you crave excitement there is no finer excitement than the form through the pages of a book. If you seek serenity, there is rest
 and peace in the right book.

Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS

The more a guy belongs to a church the more he'll get bawled out if he don't go quite straight. Well, I reckon that's right too. Because, if a fellow don't pretend to belong to any church why they can't say he's so much of a hypocrite if he should happen to steal a few thousand from a bank or be the president of a bank and get to be called by hypocrites. It's funny how much they do hate it.

Well, there's a great big church being built in New York, and it's been going up for a good many years, and naturally there's been some arguments about whether it was being done right. Some folks has got pretty bitter about it, and quite a few has called one another hypocrites, which I don't suppose any of them is by rights. But people love to get even with a high churchman by calling him a hypocrite.

Well, the architect of that church is a kinda interested in this big church. He was talking to one of the ladies of the congregation at a social affair not long ago.

"Have you been over to the church job
 lately?" she says.
 "Well, yes," he says. "I did stroll over last Sunday afternoon to see the great nave—"

How beautiful he thought the nave was going to be when it was finished, but this here lady interrupted him.

"You're right! He is a great knave, and that's a good name for him, only I been calling him things that don't sound so good. But he is a knave and a hypocrite, and I hope he'll be canned off the job before long."—Copyright,

CHURCH NOTESRev. C. L. Allen Opens His
Marion Sermons Series

Before a crowded auditorium, Rev. C. L. Allen, pastor of Calvary Evangelical Church, preached the first of a series of especially arranged sermons on the general subject, "The Greatest Thing in Marion," at the service last night.

"Life and its possibilities through the power and influence of the religion of Jesus Christ are the greatest things in Marion and in all the world," was the keynote of Reverend Allen's sermon which dealt with the subject "Marion's Greatest Asset."

"What is there in the world that is greater than man himself? What is there that is greater than young men and women and boys and girls and people in the world than in Marion? And what is there in the world that is greater than the religion of Jesus Christ and where in the world has that religion a greater opportunity to grow than in Marion?" Reverend Allen asked.

many automobiles, her telephone, her electricity, her water system, her industry and her medical science, which, although of great possibilities, cannot compare with the church of Jesus Christ," Rev. Allen said in part.

"The church is our greatest asset because, first, there is none other that can fill its place; second, because, it brings the city something that none other can bring, namely, salvation to the sinful; and third, the church brings true ideals and a clean standard for life," he said.

Repeats Text

In closing, Reverend Allen repeated the text for the sermon, "Christ, so loved the church that he gave himself for it, that he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word, and that he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing, but that it should be holy and without blemish."

Song Program

Mrs. J. W. Baker, church organist and her assistant, Miss Pauline Zechman, entertained with several beautiful organ and piano numbers. Mrs. J. C. Howley and Elmer Hartruff sang a duet.

The theme for the sermon next Sunday night will be "Marion's Greatest Liability," a follow-up on last night's sermon.

Living

FREE AND EQUAL

Loving

If those of us who believe we are living in the age which holds the record for feminine effort and achievement were to turn back the leaves of history's log book and read the entries made from time to time in the Long Ago, we'd be surprised!

In the first place we would be most surprised to discover how far and fast the feminine movement has progressed since it began to toddle.

There was a time when an educated woman was considered a social monstrosity and a menace to her gentle sex. Then somebody taught women to be beautiful.

There was a time when the great mistake, according to those who resented her emancipation, was to let her know that she was free.

Not long ago when 1792 Rousseau wrote a book called "Emile," his attitude on the education of women was as primitive as though he had lived in the days of Eden. Said Rousseau:

"The whole education of a woman ought to be directed to please them, to be useful to them, to make themselves loved and honored by them, to educate them when young, to care for them when grown, to counsel them, to console them, and to make life agreeable and sweet to them—there are the duties of women at all times."

Man's world, with a vengeance!

TODAY we laugh at poor Rousseau. His world deserves to be held up to ridicule in this generation. As an antithesis to that gentleman's scornful denial of woman's equality with man, we quote a brief paragraph from "Equal Rights," the official organ of the National Woman's Party:

"The whole education of a woman ought to be directed to please them, to be useful to them, to make themselves loved and honored by them, to educate them when young, to care for them when grown, to counsel them, to console them, and to make life agreeable and sweet to them—there are the duties of women at all times."

Man's world, with a vengeance!

Cleveland Man Speaks at St. Paul's Episcopal Church

Rev. G. H. Linrick of Cleveland conducted Sunday services at St. Paul's Episcopal Church yesterday, preaching a powerful sermon at the morning service from the text, "Sanctify the Lord in your hearts."

"We are inclined to worship self and the world," Reverend Linrick said, "we have not yet learned the value of a divine presence in our hearts, the value of having someone to lean upon, to reverence, someone in whom to find comfort and rest. God will be our sanctuary if we invite Him into our hearts. He will provide a place of rest and a place of worship. Neither the accuser nor the tempter can enter our hearts and minds when the Lord is there. That blessed, peaceful place is within you, recognize it."

Miss Frances Irwin sang a solo number, "O Lamb of God," by Stanley T. Reiff. Holy Communion was celebrated at 7:30 o'clock and Church school convened at 9 o'clock.

LARGEST AUDIENCE

Forest Lawn Attendance Record Established as Revivals Close

The largest audience ever in attendance at a preaching service heard the closing sermon of the revival services at Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church, last night. The pastor, Rev. A. W. Swan, talked on the subject, "The Last Prayer." Members of the choir were heard in special musical numbers, under the direction of Mrs. W. B. Long with Mrs. Walter Sloan at the organ. At the close of the service new converts came forward and a large number of the audience knelt in an impressive consecration service.

Members of the church session will conduct an instructional class for the new members Wednesday night at the church. A public reception will be held for new members during the morning church hour next Sunday at which time the Lord's Supper will be celebrated.

"This series of meetings we all consider the best and most important event in the history of our fellowship in the past five years," declared Rev. Swan this morning.

"A prayer may be lost in either direction of the round trip between here and Heaven," stated the pastor in his address last night. "Some prayers get lost on the way up, they never reach the throne of grace. Some get lost on the way back, they never reach their destination in the person for whom they were made. They are lost on them."

"Your best friends may pray for you; your mother may pray for you; the Savior Himself may pray for you but the prayer may be lost if your heart does not respond to the pleadings of God through them."

SPEAKS HERE

Bucyrus Pastor Delivers Sermon at Oakland Evangelical

Rev. T. S. Weaver, of the Evangelical Church, Bucyrus, spoke at the morning service yesterday at Oakland Evangelical Church. Last night, Rev. Clyde Wendell, of this city, who recently was licensed to preach delivered the sermon. Both services were well attended.

Rev. H. E. Williamson, pastor, where he concluded a very successful two-weeks revival service.

United Brethren Church
Is Formally Rededicated

For the purpose of rededicating the recently-rededicated First United Brethren Church and opening a revival service which will continue through the month of February, Dr. R. A. Powell of Bowling Green, conference superintendent of the Sandusky District, spoke there yesterday morning before a crowded auditorium.

He chose as his text a portion of the scripture found in Acts. His sermon was based largely on the opening sentence, "We are in need of a spiritual life." "Personal evangelism is the greatest joy of life, it is our opportunity to make much of our personal contact," Dr. Powell said. He gave as a definition of prayer, the words, "Prayer is being on speaking terms with God."

Members of the choir, directed by B. K. Hill, and members of the Boosters' Class, presented a beautiful musical program.

Seven conversions were made at the service last night, at which Rev. W. H. Howard, pastor of the church, preached a powerful sermon before a crowded house. "Evangelism" was the subject of his sermon, in which he said, "If you want such a revival as David and Aza conducted in olden times, you must pay the same price they paid. It is no more a miracle to save a soul in those days than it is today. What our churches need more than anything else is an old time revival and when we pay the same price that others have paid, we will have a successful revival such as they had. Idolatry is as much a failure today as it was in the days of good King Hezekiah," he concluded.

Services are to be held at 7:30 o'clock each night. Rev. Howard will speak on the subject, "Noah's Obedience" at the services tonight. Special effort is being made to welcome visitors.

Check that cough

before you feel sore in

THE DANGER ZONE

Don't treat it lightly. Don't say "I will get over it." Disease germs always find a fine breeding place in the raw, sensitive membranes—they multiply rapidly, infect the throat tissues, and unless checked, start up acute inflammation which may spread to the bronchial tubes and chest.

Act at once, at the first sign of a cough, and take PERTUSSIN before it is too late. Prevent this inflammation from spreading into the "Danger Zone" and developing into Bronchitis—Pneumonia—or worse complications.

PERTUSSIN brings healing comfort and helps to free you of sticky, germ-laden mucus that clogs the air passages. For safety's sake, get a bottle from your druggist—don't delay—it may save you from serious sickness.

If your cough has already settled in the "danger zone," you should see your doctor.

Note—PERTUSSIN is a simple herbal remedy, free from dope, and has been prescribed by physicians for 20 years.

Paper Battle Over! Cage Fans Want Action In Dairy-Shovel Series

BY EDDIE SCHWENAU
Editor, The Star

The battle waged during the last two weeks through newspaper statements by the Managers of Marion's two greatest basketball teams in regard to the proposed series to five games between the two outfits has come to an end. It's time for a showdown!

Up to this time the columns have been open for all statements that any player or manager wished to publish concerning the proposed series, but today they are closed. The war on paper is over. Action is what the cage fans of Marion want now.

If the Italy Dairies and Marion Steam Shovel expect to participate in the series, it's time to get busy. If they don't expect to play, why not drop the argument and finish the present season in peace?

No Results

The paper battle has brought no definite results. We haven't heard of any arrangements being made for the first game which, according to plans formulated a few weeks ago at a meeting of the managers, was to have been played the first week in February—if at all.

Marion basketball fans want to see the two teams clash on the hardwood floor. They've been waiting all season for the series, and hope now high two weeks ago when the managers met to consider the matter. Hundreds will be disappointed if the cage does not tie up and the old question will remain: Who has the best basketball team, the Dairies or Shovel?

If the managers cannot come to agreement, why not place the series in the hands of some competent interested parties, such as Attorney John H. Clark, F. O. Rudolph, Athletic Director F. O. Rudolph, or other men who take active part in Marion's sports? That appears to be the only answer to the problem as it stands at present. If local fans are ever to see the two outfits oppose each other on the court.

Not Title Considered

The idea of playing for the city basketball championship seems to have faded. That is the only question regarding the series that has been settled and that settled itself.

Marion fans are not so much interested in who are champs of the city as they are in seeing the Shovel and Italy men in battle. Let the city title rest.

The greatest argument, and one that will be responsible for the series never do come to terms, concerns the lineup of the Shovel quintet. Manager Hinklin of the Dairies in his first interview with the writer announced that he would allow Bacon to use only two players not employed in Marion. They were Wilson and Schwab. The other men who could play on the Shovel were Bacon, Compton, and Bohrer, and all the subs, according to Hinklin.

But these terms were given in case the two outfits were playing for the city championship. On Saturday, Manager Hinklin issued a statement that the Shovel could use anyone they wished but that he thought it only fair to Marion fans that the lineup be announced a few days before the games.

Use Any Player

It is my opinion that Manager Bacon should have the right to use what players he wishes. If the two teams meet and no city title is involved, why should it make any difference who plays on the Shovel crew? Bacon is managing a professional set of cagers and professional teams are subject to many changes during a season. Put it down as only fair to the followers and backers of each team that the lineup to be used be announced two or three days before each game. Fans would like to know just exactly who they are backing.

Use Collegiate Rules

For the benefit and enjoyment of the majority of Marion basketball fans, the games should be played under collegiate rules. That is the opinion of the writer. Marion fans like a clean, fast basketball game. While a professional game does not necessarily mean a "dirty" contest, it is known that the four personal foul collegiate ruling tends to lessen unnecessary roughness and assures a better all-around cage tilt. While playing under "pro" rules this season, only on one occasion has a Shovel player had more than three personal fouls called on him. At no time during the season has an Italy man been placed on the bench for violating the foul law.

Collegiate Rules Will Be As Fair

For one team as for the other and will give spectators greater satisfaction.

And why argue about where the first game should be played? Flip a coin or draw for the first game, then alternate between the two floors during the remainder of the series. The two outfits are to meet on equal terms so why should either have the right to dictate what court should be used?

Managers Should Agree

When the whole matter is sifted down, it looks like the two managers should be able to settle the differences and play the games without any more word battles. But if this cannot possibly be accomplished within the next week, the suggestion of the use of a third arbitrating and compromising party must be followed if Marion is to see the Shovel and Dairies meet on the court this season.

If action is not taken soon, the season will be gone. Only six or seven weeks remain and each team will wish to schedule other games if the proposed five-game series is going to fall through.

Boys Have Little Trouble; Win 27 to 8, Girls Score, 15-14

Before the largest crowd of the season, Prospect High Saturday night won both ends of a double header with La Rue boys and girls. By winning 27 to 8, Prospect boys continued on the trail of Green Camp in west section of the county league. Prospect has won three games and lost one while Green Camp has scored five victories.

Prospect girls upset the dope bucket by knocking off the strong La Rue team in a great battle, winning 15 to 14.

The Prospect boys didn't exert themselves after the first few minutes of play. The first half was poorly played by both teams, the score being 5 to 2 at halftime. La Rue's two points were made on free throws. Laudon and Campbell of Prospect suffered injuries about the eyes during the first quarter.

Prospect came to life in the second half, and ran wild over the visitors. Roberts was the star of the game, making 10 of the 27 points scored by Prospect. "Tiny" Johnson at center caught three field goals. Burdge and Couch were La Rue's best bet.

Faulkner led the Prospect girls to victory with three field goals and four free throws while Shuster, Campbell and Crowley were La Rue's shining lights.

Gossip and Guesses in the World of Sport

THE suggestion originating in the East that John Conway Tools is being considered as a successor to Ben Johnson is not seriously accepted by baseball men.

Mr. Tools is president of the International League, having held the position for a number of years.

Those who are in position to know say John never has been a bowling success as president of this minor group and that never has been able to completely subject at least two club owners to his rule.

If he cannot satisfactorily direct affairs of a minor league, it is difficult to conceive how he would succeed in an office demanding a man of unusual administrative and diplomatic qualities.

HAROLD BARKER, 17, a junior in Kenton high school, who alternately holds down center and guard positions on the "K. H. S." "Wildcats" basketball squad, has performed a remarkable feat, according to Kenton sportsmen.

During practice of foul-shooting, Barker made 40 consecutive scores, believed to be a record in amateur, or at least high school, basketball circles.

In addition to the fact that he missed only on his fifth trial, Coach George Burkett made sure that the shooting did not become mechanical and called Barker to take intermission and walk about from time to time. This, Barker said, made the accomplishment much more difficult.

Barker has been a sturdy player with the "Wildcats" this season, although he has been out of lineup a great deal from injuries.

Railway Service To Meet Commercial's Tonight

THRILLING CAGE TILT PROMISED IN AUDITORIUM

Other Industrial Games Expected To Furnish Plenty of Excitement

Just what will happen when the Railway Service cagers clash with Commercial's in the Star Auditorium tonight during the tenth round of the Marion Industrial Basketball League is not known. The cage tilt will not be known until the final gun cracks calling the battle to an end.

BILL HUNT LEADS BIG TEN SCORING

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Bill Hunt, Ohio State guard, was setting the pace today in the Big Ten race for individual scoring honors. Outrigger of Minnesota was second, and Daugherty, Illinois, and Cummings, Purdue, were tied for third.

High scores rankings, by total points, follow:

Hunt, Ohio	43
Daugherty, Minnesota	31
Daugherty, Illinois	47
Cummings, Purdue	47
Bahr, Wisconsin	40
Kruger, Indiana	38
Oosterbaan, Michigan	37

For what promise to be the most thrilling of all basketball games seen in the auditorium this season, in the Industrial League.

Commercial's have already defeated the Servicemen on a previous occasion this season, winning 20 to 18. In what was classed as the most exciting of all games up to that time. Both teams have improved since the first meeting but neither has yet shown much of an edge over the other.

The two teams are at present lined up in second and third place in the league, with Commercial's in third position because of the fact that they have not played as many games as the Servicemen. Both teams have lost two games this season.

Fairfield vs. C. D. & M.

Fairfield Engineers, strengthened more by the presence of Fluor in the lineup, will give the C. D. & M. outfit another battle tonight. Last week, Hubbard almost defeated the strong undefeated crew of Electricians and Fairfield fans have a hunch that it is about time that the worm turned.

The second game of the night will feature a battle between the two cellar occupants, Hubers and Marion Business College. Hubers have lost one more game than the Business College for the simple reason that they have played one more contest this season and met the C. D. & M. in that extra game.

Both teams have won but one game. Business College scored its only victory over Hubers during a previous meeting and Hubers upset the dope bucket a few weeks ago to smack the Fairfield Engineers in a great clash.

The games tonight will start at 7:15 o'clock with "Doc" King of Ohio Western officiating.

New York Yankees to Get Either Speaker or Cobb, Says Walsh; Huggins Back

If Miller Fails To Land Tris, He'll Make Strong Bid for Ty in Self-Protection; If Either Yanks or Athletics Buy Speaker They Will Also Buy Pennant, Declares Walsh

BY DAVID J. WALSH

New York, Jan. 31.—In talking trifles today with Miller Huggins, the thought may occur to Tris Speaker that the average wreath in Japan weighs 400 pounds and has the punch of an express in order to prevent anyone getting a first hold on him and to avoid injury when he falls. This will remind Speaker of himself. He is so different. He fully expects the Yanks, Athletics or Senators to get a firm and semi-permanent hold on him and should be full for Mr. Huggins' sake, only way, the chances are he won't be injured in the slightest. In fact, the young man figures to do himself plenty of good. He and Ty Cobb are two of three men on record who have profited by a punch on the nose. The other is Jack Dempsey.

The only thing Dutch Leonard accomplished by his scandal charges against the pair of stars was to talk each into at least $50,000 for the following season. An oddball bet is that the New York Yankees, being extremely nervous with a fountain pen, will have either Speaker or Cobb in their outfield for the 1927 campaign.

Huggins Not To Trade

Having hastened from Florida, it may be suspected that Mr. Huggins came not here to praise Speaker but to purchase him. They may not come to a definite understanding at once but the manner in which Mr. Huggins handles the deal is bound to make a lasting impression, like a signal ring on a Harvard nose.

Some of the boys in the back room are saying today that our man Huggins will close the deal before nightfall. They simply have to build home on an eight-hour shift or they feel the thing won't look good. The chances are that Speaker, being notoriously amateurish at a dumb-waiter, will make haste with great tardiness. Only a sap would fail to capitalize the present situation.

Connie Mack Offer

It is generally understood that he has one offer from Connie Mack under consideration. Another from Griffith is supposed to be waiting him in Washington. If either the Yanks or Athletics make the purchase, they will be buying more than Tris Speaker, one of the great hitters of all baseball. They will be buying the 1927 American League pennant, barring the unforeseen.

Tris Speaker, it might mean the difference between a contender and an also-ran.

Speaker therefore can't go wrong and neither can the bidder who finally makes the buy. If money proves to be the only influence in Speaker's choice, the Yanks should get him.

WHI Bid for Cobb

But if they miss, they are prepared to bid as high for Cobb. In fact, the loss of Speaker to Philadelphia would mean that the Yanks would have to get Cobb in self-defense, even if the deal meant a cash outlay greater than that required to sign Ruth. The local club has been shouting for another left hand hitter; it now has two of them to shoot at.

Who wishes to be "ruined" by Dutch Leonard? The line forms briskly on the right.

Knute Rockne Stunt Wins Game For Pleasant Boys

Strategy combined with a championship brand of basketball enabled Pleasant Township to upset the dope bucket and defeat the strong Martel boys' team Friday night in the best game played on the Pleasant court this season.

Pleasant started the fray with its entire second team and succeeded in holding Martel to a 2 to 1 score for the first quarter. Then the first squad went in and, playing a tight defense, held Martel to a 10 to 6 score for the first half. In the third quarter Utery ran wild for two field goals, tying the score. Pleasant held a tight lead at times during the remainder of the game.

The game ended with a tie score of 17 to 17. In the five minute overtime period, Pleasant substituted two fresh men and by playing an air tight defense held Martel scoreless while Pleasant succeeded in rolling in one field goal and a free throw, taking the contest by the score of 20 to 17.

Martel played a star game throughout the contest but needed a lot of Pleasant's big floor and missed most of their tries for field goals. Burkett starred for Martel with 10 of their 17 points to his credit. Utery with 9

University of Michigan Well on Way to Another Big Ten Basketball Title

Still Unbeaten, and with Hardest Part of Their Schedule Behind Them, Michigan Cagers This Week Enter Last Half of Season; Indiana Second in Standing, Tied with Wisconsin

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Still unbeaten, and with the hardest part of their schedule behind them, the University of Michigan basketball fire this week enters the last half of the season, apparently coasting clear to another Big Ten championship.

With five games won and none lost, the Wolverines today have an undisputed hold on first place. Indiana, beaten only by Michigan, shares second place with Wisconsin. Each team has won four games and lost one. The Hoosiers kept hot on the championship trail by beating Chicago Saturday night, 25 to 19.

Purdue is in third place with three victories and one defeat. Ohio State, by virtue of a 33 to 31 victory over Minnesota Saturday night, managed to hold its own with Illinois. Ohio and Illinois are tied, each having won three games and lost two.

Iowa, Kansas, Northwestern and Minnesota bring up the rear in the order named. The latter three have not won a single conference game this season.

Michigan still faces a two game series with Chicago and Purdue, and a return engagement with Illinois. Chicago is not calculated to furnish much opposition, but Purdue and Illinois are always tough teams to beat. Both have improved with the advance of the season.

The past week saw a hull in hostilities owing to mid-term examinations, but from now on a bitter fight to the

PROSPECT BOYS, GIRLS, DEFEAT LARUE QUINTETS

Boys Have Little Trouble; Win 27 to 8, Girls Score, 15-14

Before the largest crowd of the season, Prospect High Saturday night won both ends of a double header with La Rue boys and girls. By winning 27 to 8, Prospect boys continued on the trail of Green Camp in west section of the county league. Prospect has won three games and lost one while Green Camp has scored five victories.

Prospect girls upset the dope bucket by knocking off the strong La Rue team in a great battle, winning 15 to 14.

The Prospect boys didn't exert themselves after the first few minutes of play. The first half was poorly played by both teams, the score being 5 to 2 at halftime. La Rue's two points were made on free throws. Laudon and Campbell of Prospect suffered injuries about the eyes during the first quarter.

Prospect came to life in the second half, and ran wild over the visitors. Roberts was the star of the game, making 10 of the 27 points scored by Prospect. "Tiny" Johnson at center caught three field goals. Burdge and Couch were La Rue's best bet.

Faulkner led the Prospect girls to victory with three field goals and four free throws while Shuster, Campbell and Crowley were La Rue's shining lights.

An old man has a number of years about what a ball of a fellow it was when he was young; but there is nobody to tell them to.

OHIO TAX BODY APPROVES LAND REAPPRAISAL

March 10 Set as Tentative Date To Start Collection In County

Approval of the State Tax Commission has been placed on the reappraisal of property in Marion County, outside the city. It was announced this morning by County Auditor B. C. Decker. This approval marks another step in the tax collection for the county, now more than a month overdue. The reappraisal of the state body marks the first progress in the tax situation since last October, when the auditor reported to the tax commission that the reappraisal was completed and ready for inspection. Because of the large number of county reappraisals to inspect and approve, the tax commission could not get around to Marion County until about three weeks ago.

Date Set
March 10 has been set as a tentative date for the start of collection of taxes by the county. This is not definite, and may be put forward or back as the work of figuring the taxes nears completion.

and the auditor knows when the work will be completed.

The heavy work in the auditor's office now starts, with the placing of the new values on the tax books, the setting of the rates for the various taxing districts, and the figuring of the taxes throughout the entire county. Figures on the new duplicates for the taxing districts will not be available for some time.

Random Limit
County commissioners Saturday took action to protect county roads by passing a resolution reducing the maximum load limit allowed on county roads from 10 tons to 7½ tons, including weight of truck.

This action is effective today, making the load limit on county roads the same as that on main market and inter-county highways, which are controlled by the state highway department, and on which a load limit of seven and one-half tons goes into effect today.

Violations of this load limit legislation are punishable by fines. Enforcement of the load limit on county roads is in the hands of the sheriff, and reports of violations should be made to him.

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified crocodile that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membrane and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, crocodile is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agents for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat trouble. Creomulsion contains, in addition to crocodile, other healing elements which soothe and treat the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the crocodile goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germ.

Creomulsion is guaranteed safe in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist—Adv.
